
SOCIOL 376-0-23 / GNDR_ST 341-0-22

Locy Hall 109
MW 2:00-3:20pm

TRANSNATIONAL GENDER & SEXUALITY

Taught by Professor Tara Gonsalves

A vibrant, stylized illustration of a globe in the center, surrounded by a diverse group of people from various ethnicities and cultures. They are shown from the chest up, with their arms raised and hands reaching towards the globe, symbolizing global unity and social movements. The background is a mix of green and blue, suggesting a natural and social environment.

What challenges and possibilities do activists face in building global social movements? How is transnational migration shaped by gender?

In this course, we will examine the relationship between gender/sexuality and globalization. We study how gender/sexuality are implicated in capitalist, imperial and post-colonial projects, the challenges in building "global" movements, and the relationship between social reproduction, globalization, and capitalism. If you want to understand the relationship between globalization and gender/sexuality, this course would be a great starting point.

NO PRE-REQUISITES

Distribution III Social & Behavioral Sciences
Under GNDR_ST